A Man Who Built a House

English

Story Book

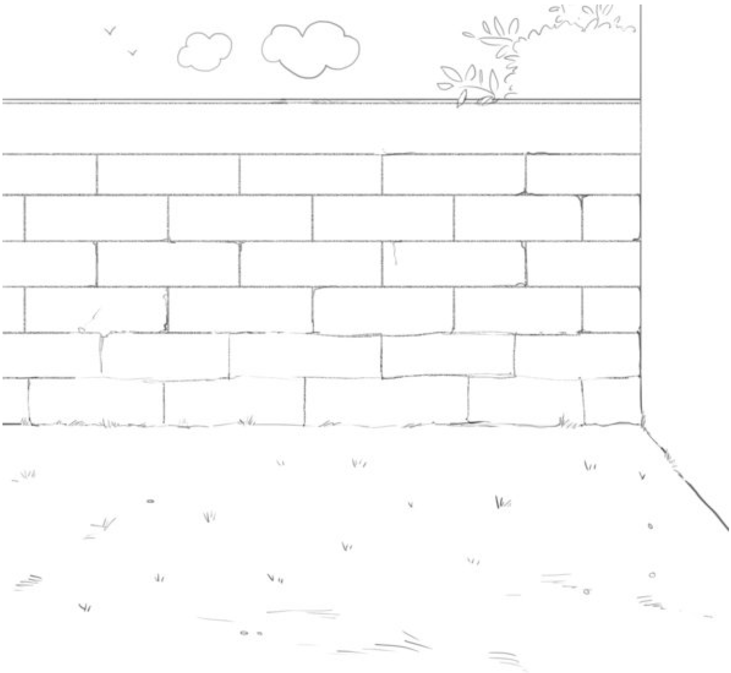

A Man Who Built a House

Writer: Remedial Class (KabubbuCommunity Library)
Illustration: Rob Owen, Marleen Visser, Wiehan de Jager, Alex Zablon, Jano Strydom, Kathy Arbuckle and Magriet Brink
Reformatted for Bloom by: Marlene Custer

African Storybook Project

English

Writer: Remedial class (Kabubbu Community Library)
Illustrations: Rob Owen, Marleen Visser, Wiehan de Jager, Alex Zablon, Jano Strydom, Kathy Arbuckle and Magriet Brink
Kabubbu Pilot site, South African Institute for Distance Education
African Storybook Project

There was a great builder in Kabubbu village.

He built many houses in the village.

But he was sleeping in a bad hut.

The village people talked about him every day.

One day he got some money.

He bought cement, sand, iron sheets, bricks and nails.

He built a beautiful flat house with a fence.

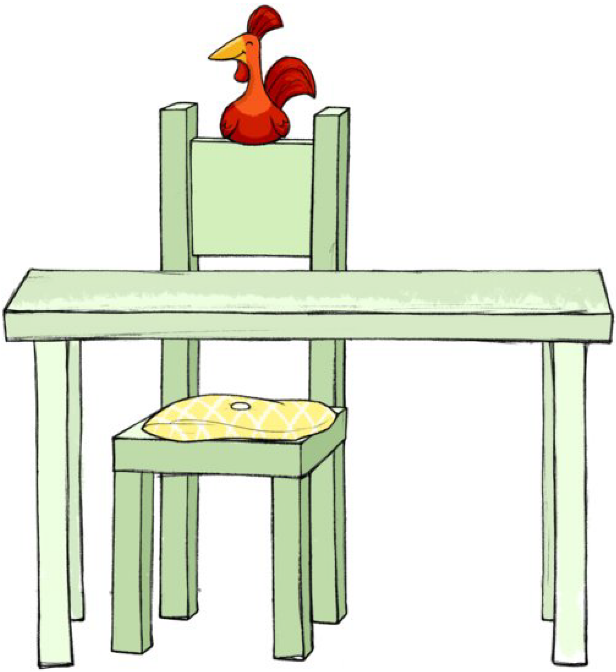

His friends rejoiced with him.

He prepared for a party and invited his friends.

They ate, drank and danced.

He got many presents.